Walter Keeler
An Artist's Selection

Craft Gallery
24 April - 6 July 2008

Walter Keeler is one of Wales' most eminent potters; a professor in ceramics, shortlisted for the Jerwood Applied Arts Prize, with work in public collections around the world.

This exhibition, curated by Ralph Turner, offers a rare insight into the artists own collection of work from the last forty years. From the beginning of his career, functional stoneware pots – teapots, bowls, jugs - to his later experimentation in domestic-ware which he continues today.
