Uncanny Tales brings together four artists who work with narrative and story telling. Oona Grimes, Marcelle Hanselaar, Ana Maria Pacheco and Paula Rego work with ideas of the domestic and fantasy, female identity and portrayal, mythology and legend, through the medium of etching and works on paper.

Although these works often display the much darker side of fairy tales, and sometimes dwell on disturbing and nightmarish scenes, these stories from the realm of dream and imagination are both poignant and provocative.
